Lettuce Project

- Own and use RE, but use grid to transport from plant to user
- No need to use electricity market, just the grid access: feed-in and take out
- Is in practice not possible in many countries (NL, DK)

Woking Working Model (UK)

- Municipality company delivers RE at lower price than normal electricity to their local costumers
- Avoid system charges because of mostly local supply
- Success, now being replicated in UK
